actupool Career Newsletter June 2026

Dear Reader,

Welcome to our June newsletter where we look at the community advantage for actuaries and how professional networks can support learning, visibility and career growth.

The Community Advantage for Actuaries

The Actuarial Media Center (AMC), host of actview and actupool, is proud to introduce its latest platform: actubase. The new networking hub gives actuarial communities a dedicated space to connect, exchange ideas and build professional relationships across borders.

actubase brings together groups, news, event updates, messaging options and other community features in one place. Above all, it is a space to meet, discuss, share and learn from each other.

The first community went live in April with the Junge Community DAV, followed by the French Club Jeunes Actuaires. Most recently, young actuaries from across Europe have been invited to join the YAI Community of the Young Actuaries Initiative. More will follow, as we will keep you updated.

In this newsletter issue, we take a closer look at selected actubase communities and the benefits of participating in professional networks.

Actuarial Careers Are Built In Conversation

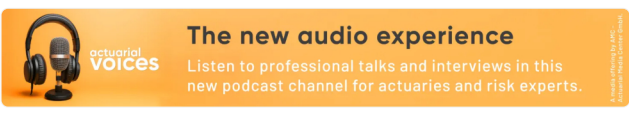

Current workforce research shows that professional development is no longer driven by qualifications alone. For actuaries, whose roles are being reshaped by AI, regulation and changing skill requirements, communities are becoming a decisive factor in how expertise is updated, shared and translated into career growth.
