

Within the risk management team located in Hamburg,
DARAG Germany is looking for an additional

Senior Risk Manager

DARAG insurance group is a specialist insurer that operates in the fast-growing segment of the insurance industry: run-off, which offers market potential in Europe of more than 250 billion euros. We are experts in taking on insurance companies' legacy risks. By tailoring the necessary transactions, we give our clients final capital relief, allowing them to focus on their core business.

Thanks to its long-term oriented investors, DARAG is financially strong and independent. Our business model, which we redesigned from the ground up eight years ago, makes us pioneers in Continental Europe. Our ways of thinking and working are predominantly characterised by the key principles of innovation, service and future prospects. Key to its success is the positioning in its markets and its multi-cultural, multilingual team when dealing with any market.

Key Responsibilities

- > Conduct qualitative risk assessments and present findings to the Board
- > Update quarterly QRT reports and continuously improve the update process
- > Develop and regularly update DARAG's ORSA, SFCR, RSR, and overall risk strategy
- > Enhance methods and processes for identifying business-related risks, with a particular focus on transaction risks
- > Project capital requirements for legal entities under various scenarios and prepare related reports

Required Work Experience

- > Relevant professional experience in international insurance, reinsurance, or consulting
- > Ideally, proven expertise in Solvency II
- > Strong initiative, commitment, and self-motivation
- > Analytical mindset and the ability to work effectively in an international environment
- > High IT affinity, with experience in MS Excel and databases

Educational Background

- > Successfully completed university degree in (business) mathematics, physics, or another quantitative field
- > Ideally, FIA or DAV qualification

What we offer

This is an exciting opportunity to join an international and diverse organization, working alongside colleagues across multiple countries and cultures. If you are interested, please send us your complete application in English, including your earliest possible starting date and salary expectations, by email to: career@darag-group.com
